N. Y. Elks Open War On Wilson

NEW YORK—Open warfare broke out last week in Elkhorn when Brooklyn Lodge No. 32 and Imperial Lodge No. 127 of the Improved Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the World issued joint statements through their public relations departments denouncing the "high-handed" tactics of Grand Exalted Ruler J. Finley Wilson and threatening to split the Order unless he toned down his demands.

Ruth Faison Held On Driving Charge

NEW YORK—Mrs. Ruth Faison, 28, of 12 Quiltman street was arrested last week on a charge that she was operating a car she had borrowed from a friend in Newark. She was pronounced under the influence of liquor by Police Surgeon Mullin.

A passenger in her car, Ruby Simon, 19, of 100 West 12th street, New York City by Mr. Arthur Bebbans, Exalted Ruler of the suspended Lodge, Mr. Brisebeau declared that he would lead the fight in Newark in the Grand Lodge. He stressed the fact that the Imperial Lodge was forced into its present stand by the arbitrary methods of Grand Exalted Ruler J. Finley Wilson.

Dr. Simmons Hits Mayor's Record

EAST ORANGE—Dr. Everett Simmons, president of the local branch of the N.A.A.C.P., questioned the sincerity of Mayor Martens' statement he favors the appointment of a Negro to the housing authority which the City Council might name, in a statement this week.

Although we had urged Negro representation on zoning boards and committees commissions, I ignored the Negro in my annual appointments," Dr. Simmons said. He pointed out that Martens named a recreation commissioner New Year's Day and subsequently a police and fire commissioners and a postmaster, Negroes.

"Who's a Negro?" he retorted. "Can Mr. Martens be sincere when he advocates appointment of a Negro to a board over which he has no power?"

The local meetings look toward the meeting at Madison Square Garden, Feb. 28, when the National Council for a Permanent FEPC will put on a huge protest demonstration.

Bilbo Faces Tough Re-Election Fight

POPLARVILLE, Miss.—Sen. Theo G. Bilbo of the red necktie and diamond stickpin, the unabashed prejudices and uninhibited tongue, faces a roughhouse fight this year to hold the U. S. Senate chair he has occupied for Mississippi since 1934.

Mississippi which takes its campaign oratory straight, has no reason to agree with Bilbo opponents.

Former Rep. Ross Collins, latest opponent to Bilbo, did so with the remark, "I realize fully the virile wrath and denunciation that will be directed at me if I provide from the incumbent."

Collins, who was a Congressman for 18 years, is confident he is capable of standing up to the Bilbo broadsides and firing back. Other announced opponents are Douglas Smith of Jackson, a congressman, and George L. Conner, Nelson Lewis, U. S. N. R., of Gulfport, who has said he would file formally after his release from active duty. Levings is

Ask 65c Minimum In State Measure

TRENTON — Bills were introduced last week by Assemblyman Jacob Friedland, of Jersey City, as part of the legislative program of the State Federation of Labor, A. F. of L.

He is offering a minimum wage and hour bill patterned after the federal wage and hour law, which would cover workers who are not protected by the federal law.

This law would authorize the commissioner of labor to appoint wage boards which shall be authorized to conduct hearings and fix minimum wages on an industry basis. These minimum wages are then to be submitted to the commissioners of labor, who upon their report, will be authorized to issue a minimum wage law for a defined industry.

Generally the act provides for an establishment of a 65-cent-an-hour minimum wage and one half to be paid for work performed beyond 40 hours in any one week. Violations of the act would be punishable by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $500 for each offense, and a maximum fine of not more than $90 days.

The bill also provides for civil suits by aggrieved employees for the amount of wages underpaid plus an equal penalty and attorney fees.

Friedland also introduced a labor relations law patterned after the federal Wagner act. This bill would cover employees who are engaged in intra-state employment.

Commission Sought

The act provides for the establishment of a New Jersey Labor Relations Commission composed of three members appointed by the governor, one member to be a representative of industry, another of labor and one public member. The term is three years and the salary $5,000 per year. The commission will have the right to conduct investigations for the purpose of selection by employees of a bargaining agent, and the board would have a right to deal with unfair labor practices on the part of employers and to require employees who were discharged because of unfair labor practices.

The bill also establishes a court, with a judge to be appointed by the governor at a salary of $7,500 per year. The court would have jurisdiction over actions of the members of the labor commission by cease and desist orders, full subpoena powers which authorize the compulsory attendance of witnesses as provided in the act. The appeal from the labor relations commission to either to the Supreme Court or the Court of Errors and Appeals.

The bills carry an appropriation of $50,000.

Bailey, 20 Borden avenue, Newark, were found guilty of charges of threatening Eva May Newell, also of Newark, who was fired from employment by the Capitol Transit Co. during the period when it was seized by the government. It was the clue to his position.

The Republican Party has already attempted to capture the capital for 1946 out of the F.E.P.C. issue. But they cannot get away with it. They are equally responsible for the defeat of the bill. Sen. Taft, Rep. Gilman Miller, Rep. John W. McCormack, Rep. John C. Linthicum, Rep. Frank Murphy, all "unalterable opposition" to F.E.P.C. while hypocritically pretending approval of the closure motion. Let the people remember this in the 1946 elections.

The Rep. Miller is still working overtime to garner the Negro vote through a trick move to nominate Negro candidates while proceeding to nominate white candidates.

In the Senate, the Negro will see through their conspiracy of deceit and hypocrisy.

The most reactionary section of the monopoly capitalists are always at the forefront in the denial of the equality achieved between labor and the Negro people under the opportunities afforded Negroes under the F.E.P.C. With the outlook ahead for great struggles Big Business is determined to do whatever it can to wrest from the hands of the Negro people the gains they have won through a strengthened economic status with its accompanying political power.

The F.E.P.C. shelved in the Senate is, however, not totally lost.

The fight to save it is more difficult and must be waged with relentless vigor in the House where it now stands. The Negroes are needed to bring it out of committee and on the floor of the House. Those signatures must be fought for.

The Communist Party calls all labor, all progressive-minded people, all veterans and their organizations to put themselves on the alert.

NEWARK — An order signed by Vice Chancellor Bigelow modified a restraint so as to permit the congregation of Mt. Zion Point Baptist Church to share use of 190 Thomas street with a faction of the other church.

The order provides that the New Point congregation may use the edifice Sunday from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. until 1:30 p.m. on which Mt. Zion faction uses its services on the lower floor from 11:15 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. each group may use the church on other days as also fixed in the order.

They realize that when Bilbo expressed himself on a race issue, he knows exactly what he means. In fact, he doesn't flinch when the followers who drop in to talk with him come home to sit on the porch of his "Dream House."

But within the limits of what is allowed, "The Man" is a Model Mississippian, his opponents expect to find plenty of ammunition. There are no rules against dealing in personalities of candidates. Politics here traditionally are based upon men and their qualities rather than upon machine politics.

Bilbo's personality, and its effect to large numbers of voters, perhaps can best be understood against the background he has created for himself.

For instance, there is the "Dream House." It is a handsome, spacious, brick Colonial style mansion, which reminds one at first glance of Crimeline and redwoods. But Bilbo snaps his red glasses as he sits on the front porch, looking down at his mail.

Why is this? The case would seem to be a fair question as far as New Jersey NAACP folk can see.

Mr. Bilbo is not sure through the mails, "Stories I Have In The Cloakroom of the Senate."

"The Man" has been a teacher, a lawyer, with property and connections on the Gulf Coast and in the "Delta" cotton empire in the southern part of the state.

The campaign may not be along the lines the rest of the country might expect from reading of the reactions Bilbo has inspired in Washington. All politically wise Mississippians respect the fact that the politicians have kept him in his office almost continuously since 1915.

No Rules

They realize that when Bilbo expressed himself on a race issue, he knows exactly what he means. In fact, he doesn't flinch when the followers who drop in to talk with him come home to sit on the porch of his "Dream House."

But within the limits of what is allowed, "The Man" is a Model Mississippian, his opponents expect to find plenty of ammunition. There are no rules against dealing in personalities of candidates. Politics here traditionally are based upon men and their qualities rather than upon machine politics.

Bilbo's personality, and its effect to large numbers of voters, perhaps can best be understood against the background he has created for himself.

For instance, there is the "Dream House." It is a handsome, spacious, brick Colonial style mansion, which reminds one at first glance of Crimeline and redwoods. But Bilbo snaps his red glasses as he sits on the front porch, looking down at his mail.

Why is this? The case would seem to be a fair question as far as New Jersey NAACP folk can see.

He expects that the new assignment will be his last in the service of the armed forces. Students Strike At Livingston

By LETTY MAE SHAW

SALISBURY, N. C.—Livingstone College students struck against the administration relative to the dismissal of seven young ladies who represented the student a few days prior with a list of grievances to be alleviated. The student body made it officially known that they had called a strike which would not be called off until the young ladies were reinstated and the entire list of grievances given consideration.

President Treston mailed mimeographed letters to parents informing them of a deplorable state in which their child resided, stating that violence was being inflicted upon them. At such notice parents from all over the country rushed "to the scene of the crime." Upon arriving they discovered the statements were unfounded and many returned to their homes leaving their children "in the hands of callous masters." The student body and administration realizing they could not gain a foothold through appeals to the parents called in Bishop W. J. Walls chairman of the Board of Trustees.

Last night, "Wednesday, Bishop Walls called a meeting with the entire student body and faculty. Previous to this meeting were meetings held with a new committee representing the Negro members of the faculty, each separate. In this meeting Bishop W. J. Walls made a plea to the student body to please return to their classes. He commenced by leading the song, "Marching to Zion." After this he told the history of Livingstone College. Then came commendments to President W. T. Trent. During the entire message he received no comments from the audience other than the faculty members. Sympathetic to the Negroes, Bishop Walls sought sympathy with Negroes as a group. He placed emphasis on the fact that Livingstone was a Christian Institution. Why did President Trent not think of the young ladies without reason? The Executive Committee admitted they had no grounds.

After a brief message the students were informed that Livingstone would close February 2nd, and the second semester would commence February 11th. Each student was to return to their home, baggage and all. Applications would be submitted for second semester entrance. Some of the grievances were alleviated. When the news was delivered, finished this announcement Bishop Walls asked the student body to comment. For 5 or 10 minutes no remarks came from the student body, then a student representative on the new committee replied, "We have nothing to say."

John Fullmore Not Guilty Of Charge

PLANTERS — In charge that John Fullmore of 800 Madison Street, gave false information on an application for a driver's license was dismissed in City Court this week after the complainant, Inspector J. H. Jamison, and counsel for the defendant agreed Fullmore had acted on information from the local motor vehicle agency.

Fullmore, whose Florida driver's license had been suspended for a year because of his failure to appear at trial, testimony, had been told by the motor vehicle agency to give his true information asking whether he had ever had a license suspended or revoked referred only to New Jersey licenses, the two men agreed. Fullmore had refused to supply a list of his chapters to Congress, although Congress gave the organization its charter.

A charge of applying for a license after revocation of a previous license was revoked, was dismissed when the case first came to trial Feb. 1. It was dismissed when counsel showed Fullmore's Florida license had been revoked for a period of one year only, and that year had expired.

Inspector Jamison asked for a memorandum of the court's decision.

Liberal South Backs FEPC Fight

NASHVILLE — "The time has passed" declared 3,800 Southerners who have signed a petition addressed to the United States Senate, urging majority rule.

The petition, which was presented to Senator George W. Norris, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Small Business, was signed by 3,800 Southerners who have signed a petition addressed to the United States Senate, urging majority rule.

Bishop W. J. Walls became furious. He was asked, "What had been published in the Salisbury Post that the matter would be settled at this meeting, but it was not."

The students were not giving in. Bishop Walls yelled, "Full more will settle this situation. We are the governing body and we will run it. We are not going to have any devish tactics here. Come to classes and get ready for us to finish this institution and start now. And we will have no demonstration here on Founder's Day. The trustees are not meeting here Founder's Day. From tonight on this program goes. It is settled tonight. We are not going to fool with foolishness any longer." After this the meeting came to an end.

The students of Livingstone College realize the hardships their parents went under to construct their homes.

None of the students left February 2nd. What will happen next? Will the administration come to their senses and admit they are licked? The students are properly prepared. They are hot so they can be comfortable, and hot water so that they may keep clean. For what is the $2,000 a day that Bishop Walls spoke of being spent?

Clare Boothe Luce Challenges D.A.R.

WASHINGTON — Representative Clare Boothe Luce (R-Conn.) declared that the Daughters of the American Revolution, which barred Negroes from its Constitution Hall in Washington, was "afraid to put its social discrimination policies to a democratic test before the public eye."

Such a test, she added, would undoubtedly reject those policies which for years had been a storm center here and caused Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt to refuse to attend ceremonies at the hall.

Mrs. Luce disclosed in an appearance before the Congressional Record that Dr. A. R. had refused to supply a list of his chapters to Congress, although it had been requested.

Mr. Luce, however, had agreed to appear before the House Committee on Education and Cultural Affairs.

Monday night was stag night with the Monmouth County Men's Club and the Progressive Insurance agents as hosts.

Tuesday there will be an Inter-chapter meeting in observance of International Brotherhood week. Speakers will be clergymen of all faiths. The program will be sponsored by the operating committee, William Knuckles, chairman, by the library program committee, Mrs. F. Leon Harris, chairman, and by Ray L. Vaughn, club director.

More than a majority of these chapters would protest if they knew the true nature of the case and if their opinions could be sought," she asserted, referring to the "white people only" clause in contracts for the use of Constitution Hall, where many of the nation's most noted musicians and singers have performed.

Mrs. Luce herself resigned from membership in her hometown chapter in Greenwich because it supported the racial ban and joined the Fairfield chapter, which had voiced opposition to the clause.

Teacher Awarded Special Citation

NEW YORK — Ruth Avery Handy, Brooklyn school teacher for 24 years, was awarded a special citation this week by the Board of Education. The award was presented for "meritorious service for outstanding work."

According to the information received from the principal, Mrs. Handy is a teacher in Public School 3 in the borough of Brooklyn, took a class of retarded pupils, immigrants from the South, and means of excursion, recreation and instruction were personal instruction adjusted these socially and educationally. Her class consists of children from 1A to 6B with an age range of from 10-15 years.

The Gothamite taught in Harlem for a number of years at P.S. 89 and was an asset to her school in breaking down racial prejudices and cutting the rate of juvenile delinquency among Negroes.

A graduate of City College and Columbia University she has visited every principal city in America in her capacity as national officer of the Negro Service Organization which she represents.

When the modest school marm was approached for a statement she said that she was happy to give her all in helping young Americans to a better racial and cultural understanding.

Charge Gov't. Board With Discrimination

WASHINGTON — After completing an investigation of employment conditions in the Federal public offices of the United States, the letter concluded, "The policies of the United States against discrimination on account of race, creed or national origin has been enunciated time and time again by the President, and the nation subscribed to it when it was adopted."

In a letter to Mariner S. Eccles, chairman of the board, Leslie Perry charged that:

1. The 30 Negro employees of the National Capital Parks Commission, under the Department of Interior, had proposed to move the tourist camp from East Potomac Park.

2. Negroes must use a small windowless cafeteria with six tables while all other employees dine in a cheerful, modern restaurant which still remains faithful to the government."

As a result of policy, Negroes irrespective of their training and qualifications, are kept as messengers and laborers. Included in this group are Negro veterans of World War II.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it's made:

1. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2. Started 3 days before "your time," it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Seven Girls Named Red Cross Workers

GUAM—Seven Negro girls, first of their race to become Red Cross workers, have been selected and are set into recreation club visitors after one of the wildest ovations ever given any visitor or group of visitors to these far-distant Pacific islands.

Not even the Secretaries of Navy and War, or high-ranking officers of the military, could match the cheers that greeted the girls as they came ashore just before Christmas to take up their duties.

On their first appearance at Camp Wise, more than 15,000 Negro Marines, soldiers and sailors, gave them a hand that would have shattered a radio, applause meter.

On their second day, virtually the entire personnel of the Navy Supply Depot of Naval Operating Base gathered outside the doors of the first Negro Red Cross center here.

When the doors opened thousands of men "pushed in with such wild enthusiasm as to make me feel for the safety of the huge quonset," declared Mrs. Olive Chesnut, acting program director, of 1474 West Belle place, Newark.

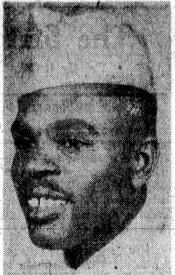

Characteristically, most of the members of whom had not seen a woman of their race for as long as two years, were these: "Are you people real?" "Just let me touch you to see if you are flesh and blood."

Others blinks his eyes continually. Asked if he had trouble with them, he looked startled and blurted out: "Nothing wrong with my eyes. I just can't believe you're not all going to vanish on us."

Possibly the most ambitious recreation and entertainment unit in the Marianas, the new club is complete in every detail for making overseas military life comfortable.

The large quonset has a spacious center hall in which 1,500 men can be seated at one time, card tables, billiard tables and writing stands. At one end is a popular snack bar supervised by attractive Miss Jean Ellen Moore, 23, of 140 Woodland st., Trenton.

At one end of the central room is a "quiet room" where men may

PROSPECTUS

Progressive action is both the motive and objective of democracy. If not "Truth," then the SPIRIT OF TRUTH will make men free and creative. They serve RACE or GROUP or SELF best who like Rogers Williams, would claim for themselves no right or privilege which is not granted to all men equally.

Vol. XIX Newark, 3, N. J., Feb. 16, 1946 No. 7

The American Senate

Social historians, when they come to write the record of today's alleged exponents of democracy in the coming age of American socialism, will doubtless note with sardonic amusement the ranting behavior of certain members of the U. S. Senate in respect to the Fair Employment Practices Commission bill and how the concept of democracy got entangled somehow in the buffoonery of these and the strange tolerance of their fellow members.

WHATEVER THE FEPC FATE

Whatever fate may befall the FEPC measure, members of the U. S. Senate have already succeeded in establishing beyond question the inadequacy of the American legislative system. For, as the editors of The Nation have pointed out, "In no other country would it be possible for a tiny minority in a legislative chamber to stop all action for an indefinite period."

Should it be forgotten that "They are able to do this only because a considerably larger group in the Senate, including many supposed supporters of the FEPC, is unwilling to discard the hoary Senate tradition of unlimited debate?"

THIS IS THE QUESTION

"Make no mistake about it," Mr. I. F. Stone has warned us. "The battle over FEPC in Congress is as fundamental a fight as we Americans will be called upon to wage in our time. This country can no more survive half-free and half-robot than it could half-slave and half-free."

HISTORY'S CHIEF IRONY

It is perhaps the chief irony of American history that the black man, brought to this country as a slave against his will, has been, and is now, the pivotal figure in the country's moral growth and social integrity.

If the U. S. Senate appears so immature and unhistoric at this critical juncture in world history, it is because, as the highest legislative body of the nation, it understands so little the principles of moral growth and social integrity.

Senator Hawke

Senator Albert Hawkes of New Jersey is hardly a man with an intelligent sense of and concern for his place in history. Evidently the Senator will be content with mention in a footnote as a reactionary who babbled about "free men" in a time when the crucial issue was how to enlarge freedom and expand the area of operative democracy.

AN OUTRAGED CITIZENRY

Said the Senator, after making a stupid speech in support of the reactionary filibuster against the Fair Employment Practice act and getting his home picketed by an outraged citizenry:

"A small vociferous minority in a minority group must not control our thoughts and actions in regard to preserving American system of free men. Many of the finest Negroes in the state and nation agree with my speech in the Senate Friday and have told me so and sent me messages."

THE SENATE'S RECORD

Perhaps, if Senator Hawkes has not won such notoriety in the Senate for his opposition to every liberal measure, domestic and international—whether the measure had to do with labor questions or the Dumbarton Oaks and Bretton Woods proposals—we might not be suspicious of his enthusiastic reactionism.

Since we do know his notorious record, we wish the Senator would, at least, name "Many of the finest Negroes in the state and nation" who have written him agreeing with his opposition on the FEPC.

THE SENATOR'S RESPONSIBILITY

We are not unaware that there are some Negroes so thoroughly degraded and brutalized by Jim Crowism that they support their own enemies. After all, is this not the end and objective of Jim Crowism; that its victims should come finally to believe in the rightness of their debasement; that, as the old blues song had it, "I been down so long that down don't worry me?"

One would expect a man of Senator Hawkes's standing to act on principle—the democratic principle of fair play—and not according to ignorant prejudice, whether his own or other's.

FEPC Mass Meetings

That the right to work is the right to live is a position the Herald News has maintained stoutly and long. Moreover, we hold with I. F. Stone, quoted above, that the battle over the FEPC is a fundamental fight, as the people of this country will be called upon to wage in our time.

ALL OVER THE STATE

All over this state—notably at Jersey City, Montclair, Newark, Morristown, Paterson, Camden, Atlantic City, Trenton—FEPC mass meetings have been held, or are in preparation. Progressive citizens, without regard for race or color or creed, are standing up to be counted as being complete supporters of the Federal FEPC.

Instinctively, the people agree with Mr. Stone that the FEPC fight is a fundamental and crucial one, knowing, as they do, that the right to work is the right to live.

Perhaps, the climax of these state meetings will be at Jersey City's Lincoln High School, Sunday, Feb. 24 at 3:30 p. m., when Mr. A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, will speak.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

Mr. Randolph, as many know, was the leading figure in getting the late President Roosevelt to set up the first temporary FEPC.

All of these local meetings—and the many other local meetings throughout the country—point to the proposed big mass meeting at New York's Madison Square Garden, Thursday, Feb. 28, at 7:30 p. m., at which time the voice

"The Rude Awakening!"

Letters from Readers

Dear Sir:
Once every year comes the shocking realization that Abraham Lincoln's birthday is not a national holiday. Most northern and western states observe it as a day of remembrance, but in the south celebration is limited to Negro communities.

It seems strange that foreign nations should take greater interest in the anniversary of the birth of a man who is universally appraised as a great humanitarian and a martyred social saint.

But perhaps it is not so inconsistent that Mr. Lincoln should be honored by his native land, for he truly belonged to the ages—the countless ages of the common man, and geographical bounds could not limit his spirit or his influence.

It is also interesting that Abraham Lincoln should be associated with the achievement of the emancipation of American Negroes. This scrap of paper which means so much to America today, which has served as a symbol of every major social configuration of the past century, meant a great deal to the gaunt man who led the nation in the Civil War crises because it was a strategic war measure as potent in its great conflict as the atom bomb is today.

However, he did not regard its effect as the crowning achievement of his life, and he actually hesitated to complete so far-reaching an act because he thought it would be likely to aggravate the basic problem of transforming chattels into men without seriously disjoining themselves and their owners.

Many Negroes know human nature well enough to know that what was doing was the best thing at the ideal time; he was too consummate a politician, for politician he certainly was, to believe that innocent men once freed would immediately become a part of a full and effective conduct of their own lives, and he knew too that the most benevolent slave owner would harden into a man who had been irreparably wronged by whom he would be compelled to admit even a burden to him.

No, Lincoln was no heaven-sent messenger, he was a man of normal prejudices and conviction who worked with the materials at hand and did the best he could. Was Franklin Roosevelt too much different? Not at all. He was a realist perhaps, or as great a politician, but he too was a great leveler of conditions who worked to equalize the share of the have and have-not because he believed that America was in dire need of a new deal, and that the Negro was a dire need of a new deal.

And this is the heritage of the country today, though with no limit to his heart and his mind and his will are equal to all the odds of life and that there is no man better than he, provided his humility and his grace are equal to his strength.

Italy has more miles of electrified railroad lines than any other country in the world. There are 2,380 miles of electric lines in Italy, while the United States has 2,133 miles of electrified tracks.

It is known to history that any man who can approach the stature of Abraham Lincoln, but his essential greatness does lie in his being the Great Emancipator. That is the mark of the man, the kernel of his wisdom, lies in his being an ordinary individual with a great heart and a shrewd mind who was forced by his times to shoulder the heaviest and most onerous burdens of the day, and who, with his great compassion and his conception of sorrow and his conception of right was boundless; for this man stood the storm of a nation's trial and never wavered.

The State We're In

By O. W. "BUTTS" BROWN

JERSEY POLITICOS NOTE

The appointment of Attorney Vernon C. Riddick to a $10,000 judgeship by Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York again focuses attention upon the sad political plight of the Negro in this state we're in. Leading white politicians in New Jersey just refuse to consider the Negro in the making of major appointments. They campaign diligently for the colored vote but after election day our group is forgotten and all of the political plums go to the favored friends of the office holder.

How long will the colored voters of the state permit this situation to prevail? Republican leaders are trying frantically to select a candidate to run for governor in the November election but they have deliberately refused to call in our colored leaders to have them offer suggestions upon the best aspirant. Representatives of every other minority group have been consulted but the Negro. Why?

It is because we have been too indifferent about the value of our suffrage. The time has come when the Negro must demand a new appraisal by both major parties of his vote. We can see how foolish it is for us to become alarmed about the election of party candidates when those candidates completely overlook their colored supporters in the distribution of patronage.

The time has also come when party leaders must realize that colored person to a menial position. Why are we overlooked when it comes time to hand out a judgeship or a membership to the Civil Service Commission? If the party heads have been laboring under the impression that Negroes do not seek these positions, I want to correct that false impression right here and now. We DO want those jobs and we are not going to be satisfied with anything less.

LET'S KNOW IN FRONT

This year it would be well for our colored organizations to send out questionnaires to the two candidates for governor and ask them if elected will they appoint Negroes to major positions in the state government. There will soon be a vacancy coming up on the Civil Service Commission and the candidates should be asked if they will appoint a Negro to fill this position.

The time has past when we can afford to sit idly by and merely complain after a vacancy has been filled. We want to get commitments BEFORE the man is elected to office, if we hope to break down the old order of doing things. Both parties must have the support of the colored voter to elect a governor and it is only just and smart for us to be in on the distribution of major patronage.

This may seem like a radical attitude to the old reactionaries of both parties but their days are numbered and it is time we were getting a new deal. How long do they expect us to act like a group of idiots, battling frantically to elect a party candidate, and getting nothing in return? If the Negro voter is good enough to elect a party candidate he MUST be considered good enough to be given his just share of the patronage that comes with victory. No party can hope to get our support that offers anything less.

CONVERSATION PIECE

Mr. Lincoln Rides Again

(From the Herald News of Jan. 19, 1946)

In what Mr. Jack Lang called "very likely the briefest address ever given upon a public occasion," the speech before the treasury building in Washington, Abraham Lincoln said:

"The part assigned to me is to raise the flag, which, if there be no fault in the machinery, I will do, and when up, it will be for the people to keep it up."

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

This is so much like Mr. Lincoln: a few words that say so much simply and bring sharply home to the American people their responsibility for what happens to themselves, to their institutions and the symbols of their lives. Perhaps no American ever took the Declaration of Independence so thoroughly, so seriously as a guide and governing principle of his thought and action as Mr. Lincoln.

THE CORE OF LINCOLN

"I can say," Lincoln declared in his brief address in Independence Hall at Philadelphia, Feb. 22, 1911, on his way to Washington to assume the Presidency . . . that all the political sentiments I entertain here have been drawn so far as I have been able to draw them, from the sentiments which originated in '46 and were given to the world from this hall. I have never had a feeling, politically, that did not spring from the sentiments embodied in the Declaration of Independence. . . . It was that which gave promise that in due time the weights would be lifted from the shoulders of all men, and that all should have an equal chance. This is the sentiment embodied in the Declaration of Independence . . . if this country cannot be saved without giving up that principle, I was about to say I would rather be assassinated on this spot than surrender it . . .

". . . I did not expect to be called on to say a word when I came here. I supposed I was merely to do something toward raising a flag . . . But I have said nothing but what I am willing to live by, and, if it be the pleasure of Almighty God, to die by."

A MAN TO RAISE A FLAG

Mr. Lincoln was a man to raise a flag. And the people of this country, and the people of the world for that matter, are forever indebted to him that he raised the American flag imaged in the Declaration, the one, the true American flag.

It is well that men in these times when powerful monied interests are gangling up on the people as though the people had no right to a living wage, a decent house, or a reasonably secure future, remember the flag imaged in the Declaration, the star-spangled banner which is the symbol of the continuing American Revolution.

THE VOICE OF REACTION

It is well that our returning soldiers, in these times when the voice of reaction is loudly heard throughout the land against the legitimate claims of the people to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, remember the flag Abraham Lincoln raised in the name of Union and the equal chance for all men.

THE BRAVE BLACK MEN

It is well that the embattled colored Americans, in these times when little men are still desperately trying to rob them of their birthright, wipe out the record of their long toil in the American vineyard, erase their names from the roll of American life, remember Mr. Lincoln words that without the more than 250,000 brave black men wearing the Union Blue there would be no united nation, no flag imaged in the Declaration of Independence.

It is well that the Congress, as it reassembles at Washington this week, remember that there is such a document as the Declaration in our lives, and that Americans are increasingly thinking of its origin and content, especially in respect to the nature of governments, their beginning and their ending.

The flag is up. It is for the people to keep it up!

Jim Crow Pulled The Trigger In Freeport

BY HARRY RAYMOND

FREEPORT, L. I. — Behind the shooting to death of two Negro brothers, one a GI, and the wounding of a Navy man, by a local hoodlum yesterday is an ugly story of Jimcrow.

Refusal of Gus Scholakis, owner of the Terminal Tea Room, to serve the three Negroes and another brother is the spark that set off an argument that ended in the fatal shooting, a private investigation by The Worker indicates.

Private Charles R. Ferguson, 27, home on Army furlough, and Alfonzo, 25, a civilian, were shot to death and Seaman Third Class Joseph Ferguson, 20, was severely wounded by Joseph Rommel, rookie patrolman, after the Tea Room owner charged them with making a disturbance.

Rommel was exonerated by Police Chief Peter Elar, who said Rommel fired when Glarius threatened him with a 45-caliber pistol. Official testimony shows none of the Negroes was armed.

Sent Up

And just to rub it in and increase the difficulties of the grief-stricken Ferguson family, Richard Ferguson, 22, was set free after a brief police court trial to the Nassau County Jail for 100 days. Justice Justice Hilbert R. Johnson sentenced Richard, protesting his innocence, to the limbo on a charge of disorderly conduct.

The Ferguson family wanted to court-martial and having no legal advice, pleaded guilty to the disorderly charge. At the same time he denied creating disorder. He was given an alternate sentence of $100 fine.

Members of the Ferguson family told the little pieces of the story of the shooting as they heard it from Richard Ferguson and Herman Crummel, Crummel, an in-law relative, was at the scene of the Terminal Tea Room owner, had been shot to serve Negroes on other occasions. Alexander Coleman, a local mechanic, told of one such incident.

Richard Saunders, local Negro sign painter, and member of one division to Civil Rights Hall, claimed that behind the action of the trigger-happy cop was the Jimcrown of 2,000 Negro citizens of the Freeport area.

"Second-class citizenship exists here for the Negro," he told Police Chief Elar. "People are not satisfied with the outcome of the case."

They are also not satisfied with the announcement of District Attorney James N. Gehrig that the master will be a great genius, the first question I ask about him is, always, DOES HE WORK?" John Ruskin.

Sweet Sixteen

Hello my friends, this is Jimmie back with the latest news and gossip — Well, Well, the glamour boy will be in our fair city Thursday, when Billy Eckstine and his band will be here. And, Arthur Tracy.

By the way, if you girls want a picture of Billie stop in at the Brandford Music Shop and ask Herb Stone for one — also for the latest release photo of Mr. Eckstine. And, if you want to see Miss Young Tiggeli, come to Arthur Tracy's.

Cook here that has put him in the news with Millie Walker?

Herb Presha, dapper boy of Newark and New York, has been seen with Miss Rose Clark, daily. What's cooking deck? I wonder what his reason can be... The story of the week, Walter Hawkins, playboy and vocalist at the Pic, pulled his shoes off (after his last performance) and walked away. And feel Mr. Hawkins, Snag has returned to Monmouth street and I would say between him and Leroy he taken over... Gerald Wilson, formerly with Jimmie Lunceford band has organized a band with the captain is... Pete Petrie, Smith, really put up a great fight last Thursday night but Mr. Dawson was just too much... Coote Williams and his band jumped at the Graham Saturday night. Everybody is in the picture a ball... I stopped in the Cabin Grill sandwich shop and saw some very good friends of mine. The shop is on the ball and a great place for a snack... Oliver Prendergast, the man to his name — or may call him Count Presha — Russell Jones gets a phone call daily from Miss Dorothy Johnson, Ohio, who says "Don't forget, don't forget, Cecil Gant and his Orch, at the Graham Bid., Sunday night, February 17. Saturday, February 23 at Lloyd Manor the Captivators presents for your pleasure, Cafe de Mervin. This promises to be a great affair, so I will meet you there."

It was pointed out by local citizens and Negroes that a formed committee to demand an investigation of the case, that the Terminal Tea Room owner, had been shot to serve Negroes on other occasions. Alexander Coleman, a local mechanic, told of one such incident.

Richard Saunders, local Negro sign painter, and member of one division to Civil Rights Hall, claimed that behind the action of the trigger-happy cop was the Jimcrown of 2,000 Negro citizens of the Freeport area.

Girl Of The WeekJames P. Davis Gets Government Post

WASHINGTON — Appointment of James P. Davis, former colored field representative of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, to the post of director of administration of the Field Service Branch of the United States Department of Agriculture was announced last week by Southern Regional Director C. D. Walker.

Mr. Davis, who was with the AAA from 1935 to 1945, will have as his first assignment the important job of assisting colored farm leaders in acquiring land for farm families with the co-operation of their cotton crop through Federal Crop Insurance.

After the close of the crop insurance sales campaign he will assist colored leaders in acquiring land for farm and rural people with the major provisions and objectives of the agricultural contract ministered by the Field Services Branch.

Director Walker says that Mr. Davis will have his office at Little Rock, Arkansas, and will travel throughout the nine states forming the Southern Region during the next three months, informing colored rural groups how they may insure their cotton crop.

Project Tenants Urge Child Care

NEWARK — Representatives from Baster Terrace and Felix Field Court Housing Projects met over the weekend for the express purpose of mobilizing their forces to maintain the operation of Child Care Centers in their respective projects.

Meeting with them were: Mr. Charlton Williams, Thaddeus Ward, Ericatic Chalmers of Newark, Mrs. William Huber whose son attends the Rose street Nursery School, Mrs. Elonia Gadsden, director of the Rose street Center and Mr. Elwood Dean, representative of the Communist Party of Essex County.

Plans are underway to close the two projects due to the lack of funds received from the government since March 1945 through funds allocated by the War Emergency Act which provided for child care and recreation during the War.

Parents who have ^{children} of the child nursery face ^{problems} of pre-school training for their children. Mrs. Gadsden said that she is examples of child development centers. "Our two year old children are able to feed and dress themselves and are taught to distinguish their own belongings while developing a genuine social awareness through sharing." Many parents notice obvious differences as a result of the specialized training our individual support.

The morning service was opened with the choir and congregation singing, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say," followed with the reading of the scripture, by Deacon Thomas E. Brock, and the singing of "I Love to Tell the Story" by the choir. Rev. Reed preached a very inspiring sermon from the subject, "I am the Door," and the closing service.

Those who missed hearing Rev. Reed's sermon certainly missed a treat. The power of God was with us and we were thankful to sit and feel of the Bread of Life, the food for our souls. Our faithful member, Mrs. Rosa Gruener has been visiting in the southland, but the Lord has brought her back. We are happy to welcome her home. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom E. Brock, Everett Winston, is also here.

Dr. Wm. Hill To Be Honored By Church

PLAINFIELD—Dr. Hill came to the Mt. Olive Baptist Church in February 20, 1944, at a time when the church was spiritually low and financially insolvent. The active membership was far below fifty and three active groups were paraded out of the church to help raise funds toward its upkeep. These groups were the Sunshine Club, the female Usher Board and the Gospel Chorus.

Our pastor will preach at the Church of God in Christ, 144 Court street, on Friday evening, February 15th, of which Rev. H. Smith is pastor.

Through the two-year period $139,780.00 had been raised in 12 additional clubs which were formed and are working to support the program of the church.

Dr. Hill is now surrounded by an all conscientious and cooperative Joint Board of Trustees and Deacons, male and female Ushers, the choir, the Sunday school and 10 other clubs which are anxious to top over the program brought by this able man of God.

All indebtedness of the church has been cleared with the exception of a very small amount which they hope soon to finish.

They know that God will continue to lead Dr. Hill and on to higher heights until he reaches the goal and accomplishes the given work the Almighty has intended for him in the Mount Olive Baptist Church of Christ.

On Monday evening at 8:30 p.m. the Rev. Latimore will preach and music will be furnished by the cGospel Chorus and Choir. The public is invited to attend all these services.

On Tuesday evening, at 9 p.m. there will be a get-together banquet of the membership of the church to pay tribute and voice their gratitude to Dr. Hill and celebration of his 20th anniversary and most noble work.

The Dole Dickerson Trio at the Pic is much the favorite of Eddie Mosby. But if they don't do a better job, I'll like a solo. A solo of the guitar would improve the Trio's great deal. Walter Dawkins was held over and still doing great. That well known blue singer about town, Grace Eddie, is also still at the Pic.

Rex Stewart Forms His Own Sextette

By GLADYS P. GRAHAM

NEW YORK — When a man who has been a member of a successful orchestra for ten years leaves that orchestra, why, naturally you wonder why. So I went down to the Three Sisters to find out from Rex Stewart personally why he had left Duke Ellington. Here is what the smooth and smiling leader of the Suave Sixette told me:

"I played for eight years with Fletcher Henderson, two with the McKinney Cotton Pickers and ten with the one and only Duke." Big bands, all them . . . now don't get me wrong, I like big bands. Rex Stewart has a band of his own which includes the master of the hour: among them was Leo Rosner, Vienna concert pianist who had to do a number of encores; Joe Golizio, guitarist who brought down the house with his magic fingers; St. Thomas Waters, saxophonist of the 37th Band of Camp Kilmer, and of course ended up with many of his own compositions. The music fest will long be remembered by those who had the pleasure to express himself with a smaller combo. Also there is the matter of traveling for 20 years. I have travelled all over the 48 states and in more than a few foreign countries playing on my own. That's tough going, as any musician will tell you. Having my own band, I can decide when and where to play the road.

Lunceford's Band Is Clicking Again

NEW YORK — Jimmie Lunceford's sensational box office showing in his recent engagement at the Earle Theater in Philadelphia, member of the Warner Brothers band, has won him a special booking at the ace Warner house in New York, the Strand Theater on Broadway, it was announced this week.

The famed "Harlem Express" currently roaring back into the musical limelight at breakneck speed, registered one of the highest grosses in the Earle's history despite the handicap of very poor weather conditions.

Trenton

By HAZEL M. DAVID

Miss Sarah Zoyd of Baltimore, Md., and Sgt. David Boyd of Griswold, Va., were the honored guests of the Trenton Mayor and Mrs. Leon Jackson of R.D. 5, Taylor avenue, Trenton. Pfc. John T. Jackson just returning from overseas duty was also present at the family reunion.

Funeral services for Frederick A. Spencer, affectionately known as "Tacy" by his friends, who died Feb. 11, will be held Saturday, Feb. 17, at 1 p.m. in the Memorial Auditorium in Raleigh.

Rev. Charles Nelson of St. Monica's Episcopal Church in Trenton, under whose spiritual guidance during his illness, he attended the Episcopal faith, officiated at the funeral services. Mr. Harold Johnson sang a request solo. He was a member of the Roosters Club, Inc., and a staunch friend of the Boy Scout Club.

He was survived by his wife, Rosa Lee Nelson; his mother, Mrs. Emma Spencer; brother, Harry; and a host of other relatives and friends who were gathered under the direction of S. J. Newsome, in Greenwood Cemetery, Trenton.

Radio listeners will be given the opportunity to hear the personal story of a play featuring Carver's life with Paul Robeson and Canada Lee on Sunday before the opening, February 17th, at 10 a.m. over Station WTN 920 on the dial.

exchanged blows and others began joining the melee. Buddy got a brilliant idea and quickly struck up a talk to the troupe in the National Auditorium, which brought the crowd of more than 4,000 persons to immediate attention. In themeanwhile, a police riot squad arrived on the scene and arrested the trouble-makers from the auditorium.

Thanks to Buddy's action, possible bloodshed was averted and the dance proceeded in orderly fashion for the rest of the night.

Count Basie Band To Play In South

RALEIGH, N. C. — Making his first jaunt into the Southland last month, Count Basie gets underway a four-week one-night tour between Monroe-Dixon line and Feb. 18, will return after lengthy illness, he advised at the Memorial Auditorium in Raleigh.

The "Jump King" is guaranteed record fees on each of his dates, ranging from $2,500 to $5,000 plus percentage. It is expected to draw some of the biggest crowds in the history of the South. Advance sale of tickets in each town on the "Big Easy" route is already in progress.

Billy reached new heights last month in coming in with a few hundred dollars of breaking all-time attendance records at the "Sweet" and "Apt." houses.

Basie's singing idol had no less than four of his best suits literally torn off his back by admiring and overly-enthusiastic feminine fans and needed a police escort for safety's sake each time he departed the theater.

Winner of the annual new singing star of 1945, Billy return to Harlem for a one-night stand-up at the Golden Gate Ballroom, Thursday, Feb. 21.

Eckstine's Band To Adams Theatre

NEWARK — In his most important booking to date, singing maestro Billy Eckstine opens a week's engagement at the Adams Theater in Newark, Friday, Feb. 16, through Saturday, Feb. 17. The band leader's initial appearance with his skyrocketing young jump band on the stage of a leading white theater.

The tremendous grosses Billy has been making at his theaters as the Regal in Chicago, the Paradise in Detroit, and the Apollo in Harlem brought him to the attention of the Adams management. The local theater operator was won over by his knack of turning up rising attractions in advance of other house.

Theater bookers and managers all over the country who have seen the show upon Eckstine's box office "receipts" in his week at the Adams. A strong showing by the handsome singing star is certain to land him immediate engagements at every leading theater.

Billy reached new heights last month in coming in with a few hundred dollars of breaking all-time attendance records at the "Sweet" and "Apt." houses.

Pays Tribute To Smith-Robinson

Willie Ratner, well-known local sport writer, paid high tribute to Charley Smith and Ray Robinson in his column this week. In speaking of Robinson he said:

"Many Servo may be learning early that there is more truth than poetry in the old saying, 'Once you're in, you're in.' That is Ray Robinson, a threat to the welterweight championship for several years, and generally gets to the top. At the same time, if Charley had just a little more behind the wallop, the put Dawson down the first time, the local boy might have been hailed a one-round K.O. conqueror of the man who twice weeks ago held like Will."

Robinson is conceded in most quarters to be a sure thing to knock off Servo the first time he meets with him. The 24-year-old Servo decides not to honor his contract for that fight. That, of course, would cost the champion a $2,000 forfeit and perhaps suspension in New York State. It's Servo's last through-the-line bid, he'll prove himself a brash lad.

But even if he decides to give Robinson the go-by and takes on Beau Jack or Greco, he may find himself up against just as tough opposition. Beau and Greco, eager to get back into the ring, the first few rounds being some of the toughest Gordon patrons ever had witnessed. They were so ferociously fought that both were pattered out in the bout's later stages.

With the arrival of the welterweight class outside of Boston could have weathered the body punches the Canadian threw. And the fact that Greco had Jack strictly on the defensive after the fifth round is a tribute to the visiting scrapper's ability.

Beau is going to prove a tough weller. In fact, we think he's a much better fighter in his new division than he was in the light weight class. Not only has he grown bigger and stronger, but he's been something of a ring general. He has learned how to protect himself and doesn't rely entirely upon his punch assimilating powers to win. That's what's going to make him so hard to beat.

Freddy Dawson, the Chicago boy who beat Charley Smith last week in Orange, is a good fighter. So is

He recently returned from a tour of the country with the Southern Sons and now stars along with Flap McQueen and his Rhythm Fiends, featuring Leon Eason on trumpet.

Joe Timmons' musical attitude for fighting can't be the same as if they had been boxing during the last five years. Of course, every man is different, so it remains to be seen how they'll come along."

Arctic Ave. Y Beats Montclair Five

ATLANTIC CITY — Rolling up a commanding lead during the first half, the Arctic Ave. Big "Y" hoopers continued their winning ways by disposing of the Washington st. Branch Y.M.C.A. of Montclair, last week on the local Y.M.C.A. court. The score was 55 to 35.

Sparked by Harvey Moore and Paul Jackson, the Big "Y" opened the contest with a fast and furious offensive and rang up an 8-0 lead before the visitors could get their scoring bearing. Coach George Weeks' boys were in front by a 14-7 score at the end of the first session. They continued throwing "em up" in the second period and sported a 27-14 edge at intermission. The team then closed out the game in the third and the Big "Y" seeped up the conflict by adding five more counters in the closing period.

Bagging five field goals, Moore packed the local passers with 10 points. Jackson, with a quartet of double-deckers, The Montclair outfit was sparked by Cory Lowe with five field goals and three out of four penalty throws for 13 points. Joe Seward netted 12 points.

Conwell Wins Dash-Harris Cops '600'

BOSTON — Ed Conwell, the New Jersey speedster, won the 60-yard dash at the Boston Garden here Saturday night before 12,000 rabid track fans. Elmore Harris representing the Shore A. C. of Atlantic City, took the 100 in 11.2 in defeating Herbert McKinley of the University Illinois and Jimmy Herber of the Grand Street Boys Club.

After six unsuccessful attempts to get the field away on even terms and a 15 minute postponement of the final to calm down the jittery competitors, the 50-yard sprint was captured by Ed Conwell of the Shore A. C. It was the eighth straight triumph of the campaign for the flying embalmers from New Jersey, who is undefeated this year.

For once, Conwell did not win the dash, but he was the first to take it driving, by inches, from Tom Carey of the Phoenix Club of Pittsburgh's Herb Douglas came home third, with Barney Ewell, the national champion, unplaced.

In the six-man all-Negro final, All was confusion before the dash finally was sent away to the satisfaction of Starve Lewis T. Jester Jr. The first two attempts resulted in false starts and Elmore Harris, representing the Shore A. C., took the dash in 10.8.

McKinley over Heribert Herber of Illinois and Jim Herber of the Grand Street Boys in the Hollis 600. The national champion returned the fastest time of the season, 11.42, in scoring his third straight victory.

It was an easy as pie for Harris, or at least he made it look so. He broke well, but laid off the early pace, settling into second position, a comfortable couple of strides behind McKinley, the national outdoor champion. At the start of the bell lap, he was still there, but strong and confident.

As they swung into the backstretch, Harris made his bid and swept by McKinley as though the latter was standing still. Herbert, in the rock form, was third, calling out to him and for a while it looked like another home stretch dual between the two, as had happened last Saturday.

But Harris war far too strong and he kept right on going, lengthening his lead with every stride. Herber never got within five inches of him and was nipped for second place by inches as McKinley finished strong. Maurice Callender of N.Y.U. faded out of the picture in the stretch and was fourth.

Lincoln-J. C. Smith To Play At Orange Armory Feb. 22

Local basketball fans were thrilled this week with the announcement that Lincoln University's basketball team will meet the representatives of John Johnson's famous Negro basketball team at the Orange Armory on Saturday, Washington's Birthday night, Friday, February 22. This should be one of the banner games of the year and produce some of the best basketball witnessed in recent years.

These teams met here about four years ago and on that occasion Johnson C. Smith pulled an upset by defeating the Lions. This season, Mamey Rivera has assembled a sensational aggregation of Lincoln whose defense was a 47-46 defeat at the hands of Seton Hall at the Orange Armory on January 19.

The Lincoln team of Pope and Law, with the mighty Pope, Bill Hall, center and Wild Bill Hunter and Armstrong are the guard is just about tops in collegiate circles. They will have to do their best for this game for Johnson C. Smith has been coming along in great shape and have been pointing for this game with the

In addition to the actual contest there is always the colorful social side, these games always holds a certain amount of allurement for the average collegiate fan. There will be dancing before and after the game with music furnished by one of North Jersey's hottest jump bands.

ASBURY PARK—Jerome Williams, ace center of the local high school five, lead his team to their 33-27 victory over Long Branch now with Jerome's record improved to 11 points to be the high scorer for his team and more firmly establish himself as for All-State honors.

Williams has been the spark plug of this high class five representing Asbury High this year and succeeded in moving them into the state title. Jerome also played sensational on the football team and is rated as one of the best all-around athletes to ever attend the local high school.
